TWO AUTO ACCIDENTS WITHIN HALF HOUR

Machines Hit Bad Place In Road Near Boyes Springs and Overturn. J. E. Miller Injured.

An automobile accident near Boyes Springs Sunday at the identical spot in the road where half an hour previous another car turned turtle, resulted in the serious injury of James E. Miller of San Francisco and the slight injury of several members of Miller's family. In the first accident two women were pinned under their wrecked car but suffered only minor hurts.

Mr. Miller, accompanied by his son-in-law, Dr. Batler, a dentist of San Francisco and the latter's wife were returning from Santa Rosa when their new touring car hit a bad place in the road near Ryan's stables and turned completely over. When the victims of the accident were extricated from under the car it was found that Miller, 55 years of age, had sustained a fracture of the upper leg. He was removed to Crane's Sanitarium where he was made as comfortable as possible unil the following day when Dr. Thomson had him removed to a San Francisco hospital.

The attention of the road master was at once brought to the bad piece of road and it has now been made safe.

J. Deacon, the well known Schellville railroad agent, went to San Francisco last week to submit to a capital operation.

ACCUSED OF COMPLICITY IN KAPLAN FRAUD

M. Stein Arrested For Alleged Participation In Deal To Defraud Creditors of Storekeepers.

M. Stein, who was at first cleared of suspicion that he was a party to the deal whereby it is alleged Kaplan brothers sought to conceal goods to defraud their creditors, was arrested here Wednesday for complicity in the plot. He was released on $2000 bonds furnished by Messrs Coates and Gottenberg.

It is declared by the officers who have been investigating Stein's activities in connection with Max and Harry Kaplan that Stein hauled goods away, arranged for the rental of the dry goods cache at Novato and paid a month's rent thereon.

To what extent he acted for the Kaplans, or what knowledge he had of their intent to defraud, will come out at his preliminary examination. Stein has been in the junk and poultry business here for several years.

Kaplan brothers plead guilty and are seeking probation on the charge now involving Stein.

MASONIC GRAND LECTURER TO VISIT SONOMA LODGE

Grand Lecturer Tom Baker of the Masonic Order will visit the Sonoma Lodge Monday night. A large delegation of visitors from Petaluma will attend.

On Monday the 18th it is planned to have open house at the Masonic Hall and to show slides of the Masonic homes.

1,000 Votes Free to Queen Candidate from Sonoma City

Generous Offer, Girls, But You'll Have to Hurry. How Four Candidates Are Running.

Through the generosity of a citizen of Sonoma who wants to see this city on the map in the queen contest of the Valley of the Moon carnival, 1000 votes has been left with the Index-Tribune and are now on deposit at the Sonoma Valley Bank. The votes, which will put some lady of our city in line for the $200 diamond ring to be given as a prize to the winner in the queen contest will be turned over free to the first caller at the Sonoma Valley Bank who will declare herself a candidate. She must be a resident of Sonoma City, may be single or married and sweet sixteen or better. So far, Sonoma has no queen in the contest, Miss Norma Hansen having declined to be a candidate. With 1000 votes to start a Sonoma girl will have a fine chance to go out and win the $200 prize.

Miss Claire Farrell, 3000.
Miss Genevieve White, 1750.
Miss Flora Benedetto, 1000.
Miss Louise Craib, 500.

Tickets for queen may be had from all stores in the valley. Get out and help your favorite queen win the $200 diamond ring.

The carnival opens Saturday, April 29th. There will be swimming and diving contests, concessions of all kinds, games, dancing and a grand ball at night.

With every new yearly subscription to the Index-Tribune fifty votes will be given free to any candidate in the valley running for queen. With six months subscription twenty-five votes will be given.

CLERICI IN NEW LOCATION

A. Clerici, the news dealer and ice cream and candy man, has moved to his own building on the east side of the Eagle Grill. The store has been artistically painted and decorated by Muller & Downey, tile pattern inlaid linoleum has been laid and Mission style booths installed for soda fountain patrons.

The soda fountain and candy stand are arranged conveniently and there are improved facilities for displaying perioricals and magazines. Mr. and Mrs. Clerici have built up a nice business through their square dealing with the public and continued success is predicted for them in their new quarters.

CITY ELECTION APRIL 10; CANDIDATES FOR TRUSTEES

The city clerk, H. W. Gottenberg, has issued the call for the city election on Monday, April 10th, and announces the nominees for city trustees as follows: For trustee full term, Henry F. Bates, Frederick W. Doubel and Edwin T. Lindley; For Trustee, short term, Samuel B. Lewis.

The election of this Board will mean the continuation in office of live and progressive men who have already given Sonoma one of the most efficient and up-to-date administrations is has ever had. Henry Bates is a popular and prosperous business man who from boyhood has been interested in the growth and improvement of the community where he has many interests and has made his home

F. W. Dobbel is a retired farmer and skilled accountant, a careful, conscientious business man, owning some of the finest residence property in town.

Edwin T. Lindley is the live wire manager of the Sonoma Feed Store, the successful conduct and growth of which is a testimonial to his ability. He is an ardent booster for Sonoma.

Sam. B. Lewis is the proprietor of the Lewis Meat Market and is on record for all improvements that will put Sonoma in the rank of the leading municipalities of the state.

Ordinance No. 152 "To improve and beautify the Plaza and lease a portion thereof;" will also be voted upon by the people at this election.

NEW FURNISHING STORE IS TO OPEN HERE

A branch of the Mendelsson ready-to-wear store of San Francisco is to open in Sonoma next week with a full line of up-to-date styles in ladies and misses wear, also yard goods and remnants.

Mr. Mendelsson is an experienced merchant of the metropolis and was in town Tuesday arranging for the opening of his branch, which will be in charge of Miss Sadie Rotenberg.

The new store will be located on Napa street next to Griffith's Palace Garage. The interior is being painted and made ready for business.

HARRY WEISE IS A GRAND-DAD

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Weise (Myrtle Minkel) are the happy parents of a nine and one half pound baby boy. The arrival makes former Supervisor Harry Weise a proud grand dad.

Dr. A. M. Thomson and Mrs. Reed the trained nurse were in attendance.

I.O.O.F. EXHIBITION DRILL FEATURE OF BALL

Team From Petaluma Canton To Be Present at Dance of Order Here on April 22nd.

One of the features of the I. O. O. F. ball to be given April 22nd at Union Hall will be the exhibition drill to be put on by Canton Petaluma 10 in full uniform. The drill team is one of the best in the state and all who attend the dance of the Order will have an opportunity of seeing the fine work of this team. About 50 Petalumans have decided to accompany the drill team here and a brilliant evening is anticipated by the Lodge and its friends.

An augmented orchestra of nine pieces will furnish the music for dancing and refreshments will be in the capable hands of the Verdant Degree Rebekah ladies.

INDOOR SPORTS TAME— PRESTO! OUTDOOR SPORTS

Wednesday night indoor sports on the Rue de Napa grew tame so it was suggested by the sports assembled at the Elite Cafe that they pull off something outside. Basket ball being up for discussion, Pete Boccoli, late overseas soldier bet his pals that he could make more goals than George Carpenter, famous basket ball fan and enthusiast. The crowd repaired to the high school basket ball field where, in the spotlight of several cars assembled, Pete made seven out of ten goals.

Flushed with victory, Boccoli then bet his friends, Bianchini, Pinelli and Martini, that he could do a marathon around the Plaza twice. With Carpenter as the pacemaker, the mile was easily negotiated by Pete, who as a speed artist, always takes first money providing the speed cop don't beat him to it.

The Sonoma sports are talking of pulling off a cross country marathon here and inviting the Olympic Club's best sprinters to participate.

COUNTY OFFICIALS' HATS IN THE RING

Auditor Pool Only Incumbent to Retire from the Official Race This August.

It is stated on good authority that all the county officials except Auditor Charles A. Pool will be candidates for re-election at the August primaries. Mr. Pool has announced that he will retire from the official family. He has been a concientious and valued public servant in Sonoma county for 20 years.

Despite the caustic criticism leveled at County Superintendent of Schools Ben Ballard by the recent grand jury, Mr. Ballard will be a candidate for re-election and has already started campaigning.

J. C. Hoke Smith who has given excellent satisfaction as county assessor will ask the voters to return him to office for another four years. Mr. Smith has many supporters down this way.

Coroner and Public Administrator Frank Phillips was in Sonoma Monday on official business and when asked if it were true he was to run again gave a characteristic, genial reply: "Sure, I am to run again. I've never stopped running around tending to the people's business here, there and everywhere. The people of Sonoma county need me and I need the job, so there you are." Doctor Phillips' office was highly commended by the grand jury experts and his policy of conducting his affairs without fear or favor has won for him an enviable reputation.

Sheriff John M. Boyes who succeeded the office upon the tragic death of James Petray has made good in every sense of the word and has a large backing for re-election. It is rumored that one of the Petray brothers of Healdburg may be a candidate and a Graton man is also in the race.

WILSON HAS FINE MUSICIANS FOR THIS SEASON

F. C. Wilson, with his new augmented orchestra, will open at Boyes Springs Theatre, April 29th, playing for the Carnival. Mr. Wilson has secured all soloists of note, instrumentation as follows:

F. Homer, saxophone, soloist with U. C. Orchestra; A. Woodington, drummer and xylophone player of the Rialto Cafe, in Los Angeles; La Franchi, solo cornet in the U. S. Marine Band, and Jean Wilson, banjo.

The orchestra will be called Wilson's Serenaders, featuring perfect harmony, melody and dance tempo. This music will be a feature at Boyes Theatre this season and promises to be a great treat for all patrons this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Ross have purchased the Raynaud property on Broadway occupied by Abele, the plumber. Ross is in the battery business on Broadway.

HARD TIMES DANCE AT FETTERS SUCCESS

The hard times dance at Fetters Springs theatre last Saturday night was well attended and nicely conducted. Many young ladies wore their fetching gingham aprons, but their escorts, with more vanity, persisted in appearing in their best suits instead of the overalls which they were asked to wear. One exception was Eric Blomgren, well known garage man, who wore his oldest overalls with sangfrojd and declared that a hard times party was a hard times party. Good for Eric!

Music by Wilson's Serenaders was, as usual, much enjoyed.

Miss Virginia Pomeroy a student of dancing and dramatics in San Francisco, is to take a leading part at a coming performance to be given by the Players Club of that city. Miss Pomeroy is a niece of Mrs. Perle Hunter, president of the Sonoma Valley Women's Club.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR ST. FRANCIS PARISH IN MAY

May 6th has been set as the date for a high class vaudeville entertainment to be given for the benefit of St. Francis parish at Union Hall. The usual splendid program is to be even better this year, such stars as Willie Meehan of prize ring fame having promised to appear in a vaudeville sketch for the worthy cause. There will be musical acts and many clever numbers by San Francisco artists.

During the past year St. Francis parish has made many improvements and the net proceeds of this entertainment will go toward the liquidation of the debt and the payment of the taxes.

ACQUIRES THEATRE AND PAVILION SITE AT CALIENTE

The sale of a piece of property at Agua Caliente was consummated this week whereby E. G. Perkins, the well known musician and amusement director acquires a site on the highway opposite the Caliente Postoffice from Mrs. C. Richards and will erect a theatre and dance pavilion. Perkins is now working on his plans which are ambitious ones and will give the Caliente section a fire proof, modern building designed for public gatherings and a community center. The place will be conducted along novel and up-to-date lines and will be also a nucleus for community affairs. The theatre and fine maple dance surface will make it one of the most popular amusement places in the valley.

Mr. Perkins who has had twenty years experience in promoting amusement enterprises and is prominent in musical circles, is concentrating on several big projects which will make Caliente and the Valley of the Moon the mecca of big crowds from all our neighboring cities.

ORGANIZATION OF GOLF CLUB AT PETALUMA

A number of citizens met at the Chamber of Commerce last night for the purpose of forming a golf and country club. A preliminary organization was formed with L. V. Korbel as president and Homer W. Wood as secretary. It was determined to secure the services of a golf architect to survey some land in order that the first expense might be determined. The meeting adjourned to the call of the chair.—Petaluma Courier.

A crew of S. P. painters arrived on the Santa Rosa branch the first of the week to paint the different depots on the division.

J. J. Bairros, proprietor of the Victoria Hotel, returned here Tuesday after a business and pleasure trip to San Francisco.

Charley Blumstrom, well known contractor, is busy this week moving two buildings from the Parente Tavern to Jack Main's corner, the latter having purchasd them.

Effective April 1, 1922, mail for El Verano post office will be received on Sundays on Train No. 60 via the S. P., arriving at El Verano at 7:35 a. m., instead of on Train No. 140, arriving at 10:30 a. m., as heretofore.

The basket ball game last Friday at Sonoma between the grammar school of that town and the El Verano school resulted in a victory for the former. The score was 23 to 18. The game was a good one and was witnessed by a large crowd.

M. Portugal, Sonoma baker, while driving his machine on the Petaluma road last Sunday, hit a bridge, throwing out two of the occupants and badly damaging the machine. All escaped injury, but had a narrow escape.

Professor Toutjain and wife left for Berkeley Monday. Mr. Toutjain will return in May and has signed a contract with A. Rosenthal of Verano, to furnish the music for his new dance hall this season, which is now under construction at the Rosenthal Villa.

At a meeting of the Oakland railroad men at Oakland, it was decided to have an inspection made of the Oak Grove picnic grounds with a view to holding their annual outing at this place this summer. About 2000 railroad men and their families go on the outing and it is hoped that Sonoma Valley's favorite picnic grounds will land this event.

Two automobiles turned over Sunday near the Ryan stables at Boyes Springs. Mr. Miller of San Francisco had his leg broken and was taken to Crane's Sanitarium by Dr. Thomson, who happened to come along at the time of the accident. Mrs. R. Bruganne of Sonoma Vista was riding in the other car, and received several cuts. Both cars were wrecked and it is claimed the road is in bad condition where the accidents occurred.

The boxing bout between Holly of Verano and Barry of Oakland at Oakland last week at Oakland resulted in a victory for the home boxer. It was the best fight pulled off in Oakland for some time, and had the crowd on their feet when the decision was given Holly. Barry had recently won from Holly and Buck had to win. He is now in line for the best of them. Buck scored a knock down in the fourth round.

At Crescent, near Napa Junction, on last Friday, freight train No. 294, headed this way with Engineer Dwyer at the throttle, ran into the section crews' gasoline car on the steep hill at that place. The men jumped before the accident, but one man was badly hurt. The pilot and head light were badly damaged on the engine and nothing was left of the car or tools. It is claimed the section foreman was to blame and after the accident sent in his resignation for the good of the service of the S. P.

Mrs. Lizzie Lutgens was hostess to the Bridge Club last week, Mrs. W. B. Hays capturing first prize.

P. H. McCARTHY RESIGNS

P. H. McCarthy, for 22 years president of the State Building Trades Council, officially announced he would not be a candidate for re-election. His declaration was made before 250 delegates from all parts of the state attending the council's annual convention.

Mr. McCarthy, who owns a pretty country home at Sonoma Vista, will now have more time to devote to his rural pursuits here.

ANOTHER HOTEL FOR SONOMA

The Depot Hotel, near the N. W. P. station, here in Sonoma, is being rehabilitated and refurnished throughout by J. A. Arsura of Stockton, who will conduct it as a boarding house. The building is of stone and considerable money is being expended by the new lessees in putting it in shape.

FIT MATE FOR DARING OUTLAW

Belonging to that shadowy band of characters who hover somewhere in the borderland between fact and fiction, Maid Marion and Robin Hood, whimsical, charming, picturesque people of medieval England, deserve a chapter in the history of happy lovers.

Marion was a beautiful, graceful little maid, loving the errant Robin with all her youthful heart. She helped him in his self-appointed task of robbing the rich to aid the poor, and was a thorough little out-of-doors creature. No forest hardships were too much for her. She excelled in archery, was a fleet runner and, in fact, was splendid in every form of sport.

But Marion's family, so the story goes, objected to her union with the country-wide reprobate, and every effort was made to force her to wed a middle-aged man whom she did not love.

However, the jolly band of Robin's followers, by employing their ever-ready wits, succeeded in foiling parental plans. Robin Hood and maid Marion lived together in the woods many happy years, known always as the enemies of the rich and selfish and the friends of the poor and needy.

BRINGING BOARDERS TO TIME

Woman Employs Gossip as a Medium for Getting Delinquents to Settle Their Bills.

Many and various are the schemes employed by boarding house keepers to spur collections from delinquent boarders. The latest is to take gossiping, the boarders' own most popular indoor sport, and use it against them.

"Easiest thing in the world," declared an exponent of the new system. "All you have to do is spread the news. You just weave it into the conversation off-hand like that ain't it a shame poor Mr. Brown is having such hard luck and his wife so brave, too.

"'He owes me for three weeks now,' you say. 'Not that I'd press him for it. But he must be kind of hard put to be hanging up a poor widow like me.'

"That's enough. Whoever I tell tells it to some one else. She tells some one else. Soon it's all over the house, and in time it gets back to Brown. That usually brings him around. Few persons can stand it to be talked about."—New York Sun.

Improbable Story Beginnings.

When Shamalback pulled up at the garage he found the prices had not been arbitrarily raised because he was a tourist.

The maid opened the door and Coralia entered with the umbrella she had borrowed the week before.

Before Ann Chovie left for Hollywood to take up film work she openly admitted she was not as good as some of the stars and therefore, never expected to reach stardom.

Our hero had sent a copy of the latest book of his favorite author to the writer himself, asking that it be autographed. The simple request was complied with and the book promptly returned.—New York Sun.

Webster's Lost Opportunity.

Daniel Webster, expounder of the Constitution, great senator and eloquent orator, had set his heart on becoming chief magistrate of the American republic. All efforts to secure the presidential nomination proved abortive. He could have had the nomination for the vice presidency in 1840 by simply indicating his willingness to accept. Disdainfully he brushed the suggestion aside. He considered himself above playing second fiddle with William Henry Harrison. Had he been equipped with more self-abnegation than haughtiness he would have accepted, and had he done so he would have become President April 8, 1841, an even month after the inauguration of Tippecanoe and Tyler, too, as a result of Harrison's death.

Animals Blush.

Poets have for ages regarded the blush as a thing of beauty in the gentle sex; but, after all, it is only a rush of blood to the face, caused by modesty or some other emotion. Animals blush, too, we are told, but through fear. Horses blush in their ears, especially the left one. When a horse is frightened his left ear will be found to be very much swollen. This is also the case with rabbits. Cows and similar animals blush just above the hoof while the dog uses his tail for this purpose. When a dog is frightened his tail hangs limp, as he has lost all control over it. Even insects are said to blush. They do it in their antennae, or feelers.

FORD AGENCY REPORTS BUSINESS VERY GOOD

"Business is good," says Busby & Coates, of the local Ford agency and to back up their assertion a shop full of work, many cars lined up in front of their place of business and the record of the following sales goes to prove that they are right.

Purchasers of new touring cars include C. Dresel, K. Hylander, MacKenzie & Kearney, C. J. Kiser. Roadster, M. Bianchini. Trucks, P. Verdier, J. R. Walton, Sedan, F. W. Peterson. Coupe, C. Fritzschen.

Other Ford sales were made to Messrs. Ricketts, Koopman, D. Kennel, J. H. Wagner, B. Dupuoy, P. Militello, George Wagner, W. Rohde and F. McClusky.

AT THE EL DORADO

Several large dinner parties were served both noon and evening last Sunday at the El Dorado Hotel where home made ravioli are a specialty every week and are praised by judges of good cooking.

CHARTER LEAGUE GETS INTO ACTION

The circulation of petitions asking that the supervisors call a special election for the election of a board of freeholders who are to form a charter for Sonoma county, is now on, as was decided upon at an enthusiastic meeting on Tuesday of last week. It will be remembered that the Charter League had previously asked the supervisors to call a special freeholders election without submitting to them a petition signed by the voters. The supervisors declined to act in the absence of the filing of a petition. If a petition is required, it must contain 15 per cent of the voters of the county.

FATHER BANDINI TO REVISIT NATIVE LAND

Rev. Father Titus M. Bandini priest in charge of St. John's Catholic church at Healdsburg is planning a vacation visit to Italy and will be absent from his parish for five or six months for his stay in the sunny land named. He expects to leave shortly after Easter Sunday and will make a brief stay in Arkansas and Missouri before going to the Atlantic seaboard.

Father Bandini expects to sail on the French liner Rochambeau shortly after the first day of May and will go to Paris. There he will visit the Nuncio of Paris, Most Reverend Cerretti, his schoolmate while attending the school at Rome. Father Bandini is looking forward to his visit with his college chum with more than pleasureable anticipation.

The local priest will visit many of the battlefields of France and there witness the devastation resulting from the awful carnage which was waged there in recent years. He will also view the battlefields of his beloved Italy and will spend the greater part of his time in Rome and Naples, with a visit to the famed Passion Play at Oberammergau.

As a mark of distinction the late Pope Benedict sent Most Reverend Cerretti to Paris to attend the Peace Confrence as his personal representative at that great gathering.

Let Us Profit By Example and Organize

THE advantage of a strong, well-organized Chamber of Commerce is seen in Santa Rosa's successful coup in getting the Schellville-Santa Rosa stretch of State highway started on the Santa Rosa end. We welcome the start of it anywhere but Sonoma Valley, now more than ever, is in need of an active up and coming harmonious organization to work for the interests of this valley as this road is building and to see that at the next call for bids for another unit of the Schellville-Santa Rosa highway that all rights of way deeds are in the hands of the Supervisors and Highway Commission in order that there may be no hitch on the long-delayed improvement through Sonoma Valley.

Santa Rosa has scored through harmony and organization. Let us profit by what we observe. Let every member of the local Chamber of Commerce attend the annual meeting to elect directors next Thursday night and put the organization into the hands of men who will promote the interests of this section.

Opportunity to Make Sonoma Known

The money being spent by the Sonoma Business Men's Association on the North of Bay Counties folders and the three thousand Sonoma booklets just off the press is very opportune and will help our valley to advertise its advantages to the 300,000 convention delegates scheduled for California during 1922. Here is what the semi-weekly Southern Pacific news letter says about the people coming to our Golden State this year:

"Convention travel to California during 1922 will be the greatest in the history of the State," says Chas. S. Fee, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Company, in commenting on the unusually large number of conventions to be held in California during the year 1922.

With 132 national state and district conventions already slated, and more being announceed every day, California will in 1922 be the Mecca for more than 300,000 convention delegates and visitors.

More than 110 special trains have been booked by the Southern Pacific alone for delegates to the Shrine and Rotary Clubs conventions to be held during the month of June in San Francisco and Los Angeles respectively.

In addition to the many special trains bearing delegates to the conventions, the Southern Pacific expects to handle an unusually large number of tourists on the regular trains due to the fact that the transcontinental have granted low round trip westbound excursion rates to California from eastern points, effective May 15, stop-over and time-limit concessions granted on these rates are most liberal and should result in added travel.

In addition to the conventions listed for 1922, numerous others are already booked to be held in California during 1923.

Let Them Return to Their Legitimate Work

WHEN a minister of the gospel enters the arena of politics and arrogates to himself the powers and privileges of a boss, he must expect to be the target for attack.

There are many highly paid professional reformers in Washington and in other cities of the country who have been tempted from their legitimate fields of labor by the lush grass of specialized activities. They have deserted the drudgeries of parish work, with its penury, its sick calls, its funerals, etc., to become censors of public conduct. They toil not, neither do they spin, but they hold conventions, collect funds, issue impressive manifestos and browbeat Congress. Yet they demand for themselves the same public respect that is willingly and spontaneously vouchsafed to the humble priest of religion who trudges in the path of the lowly Nazarene.

It is they, not the clergy, who are made the butt of jokes and the target of the artist's humor. They should not complain, for the remedy is in their hand. Let them return to the duties for which they were ordained.—Washington Post.

How Sonoma Can Get Park Improvement

IS THE service station for the Plaza in a hopeless tangle and confronted with so many obstacles that it is hopeless to think that we will eventually get it? We think not. If the vote on Monday, April 10th, is practically unanimous, half the battle is won. If you are interested in the success of the issue, go to the polls and vote. Do not neglect to cast your ballot and express YOUR sentiment. Back up the Board of City Trustees and they will go the limit to put through the proposition to beautify our park. The law permits wide latitude in such matters where public opinion unmistakably favors a move for improvement. Let the sentiment of the people be registered. While the battle will only be half won if the vote is practically unanimous, the other half might be won if public opinion can influence the Vallejo heirs to grant a quit claim deed to any rights they may have under the original grant and gift of Sonoma's benefactor, General M. G. Vallejo. If they would come to see that they would still be greater benefactors to Sonoma by releasing the city from any moral obligation, that it may resort to the financial expedient to beautify the acres long neglected, we would then have a 100 per cent chance to consummate the lease.

If sentiment is obdurate, the Trustees may carry the matter to the courts to determine if the patent to the Plaza which the City of Sonoma has from the United States Government does not take precedent over the original grant of General Vallejo or if his stipulation is for all time binding.

If all avenues are closed and the financial aid through a lease goes a-glimmer, our citizens must still campaign for the improvement of the Plaza and the consummation of their wishes to have a park in Sonoma as fine as any in the State. Go and vote next Monday week and strengthen the resolve of our Trustees to give us the improvements Sonoma merits.

The New York Ban On Women Smoking

NEW YORK tried to launch a new law against women smoking in public. The only place they can hope to stop those who want to smoke is in public places and what will be the result—more smoking in private, more violation of the edict which had for its object the lessening of the practice. Bad habits or excessive indulgence which cannot be controlled or corrected naturally surely will not yield to the artificial discipline set up in the name of the law. How many times this truism will have to be reiterated to wear away the credulous fallacy upon which professional reformers are now fattening is problematic.

Whether or not women should smoke is a matter of point of view and personal taste. A lot of wicked women do not smoke. A lot of good old fashioned mothers sat in the chimney corner and puffed away in ye olden times and were thought none the less of. If the modern girl cannot see that smoking detracts from personal charm she cannot be made to see that it is any business of reformers through law to make her a reflex of their ideas of a model woman. A smokeless woman may be most highly desired by all who cling to the old ideal of feminine charm sans jeweled pipe or cigarette but there must be a stronger, more compelling influence than any law to dominate the dainty sex and direct tendencies sprung from foolish foibles of fashion. We have faith that such influence prevails in the greater part of the United States.

DR. PEEBLES, the deceased spiritualist, who attended a meeting in Los Angeles from Spirit Land, said the climate of paradise was like Los Angeles. They boost beyond the grave, in the South. No wonder they reap!

FAREWELL TO OLD RESIDENTS FINE AFFAIR

The farewell party given by the Ladies Aid of the Congregational church Friday afternoon of last week to Mrs. G. Munfrey and her mother, Mrs. McKinnon, was a fine affair and reflected the true spirit of the circle of devoted friends toward these esteemed old residents on the eve of their leave taking for their new home in Burlingame.

The Sunday school rooms were transformed into a reception hall for the occasion, rugs, comfortable chairs and potted plants being used with excellent taste and providing an artistic homelike setting for the afternoon gathering. About 75 old friends and neighbors were present to express their regret at the departure of Mrs. Munfrey and her mother, and to witness the presentation of a lovely gift, an electric reading lamp, to the guests of honor. Rev. Isaac Cookman made an appropriate and touching speech which was responded to by Mrs. McKinnon who, despite her 90 years, was self possessed and voiced her sentiments beautifully. J. B. Morris was another speaker and as a climax to his remarks on the leavetaking of old and dear friends, he kissed Granny McKinnon goodbye. Mrs. Adelaide Savacool sang In the Garden and Mrs. McAllister and Mrs. Champlin rendered a duet and Mr. Taylor a tenor solo. Rock of Ages and All Hail the Power were sung, and Mrs. Emparan gave La Paloma.

Mrs. Carrie Burlingame made the presentation speech accompanying the gift of the Ladies Aid, admonishing the absent friends to always think of Sonoma and old acquaintances as they lit their evening lamp and sat about the reading table in their new home.

Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the informal program at tables made bright with early spring blossoms.

Guests came and went throughout the afternoon. All ages were represented from pretty litle Nancy Zoe Olin to the contemporaries of Granny McKinnon, among the latter Mrs. Adelaide Hope, convalescent from a recent accident who was the center of much attention from friends glad to see her up and around again.

It was with reluctance that goodbyes were finally said, but the best of friends must part and Mrs. Munfrey and her mother made graceful acknowledgement of the honor conferred upon them and declared they would long cherish the memory of their farewell afternoon.

George Darling has been making many improvements at his Boyes Springs restaurant preparatory to the 1922 season. Fine inlaid linoleum to cover the dining room was an order placed by Mr. Darling with F. Clewe, the local merchant. Darling believes in trading at home.

HAVE PURCHASED HOME IN SONOMA VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elkins, formerly Miss Alice Tuttle of this city, who have resided in San Francisco and Santa Clara county for many years, have hearkened to the call of the soil and have purchased a pretty farm near Buena Vista station, in Sonoma Valley and are now taking possession. Thus Mrs. Elkins will come back near to her own home. She is a daughter of the late Senator B. F. and Mrs. Tuttle of this city, and sister of Harry Tuttle, and is a high school graduate and a former belle of this city. The many Petaluma friends of the estimable couple will be glad to know that they are now neighbors. —Petaluma Argus.

"IRENE" COMING ON NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Judging from the way "Irene" has been received in other cities, the performance of this music play at the Cline Theatre, Santa Rosa, on Monday, April 3, will hardly suffice to give all those who have been waiting for this smart musical comedy an opportunity to see it.

Here as elsewhere, the advance sale indicates that the production will set an attendance record.

"Irene" is the work of those three up-to-the-minute writers, James Montgomery, Joseph McCarthy and Harry Tierney, who respectively are responsible for the book, lyrics and music, and those ideas count in a large measure for the enthusiastic audiences wherever the piece is presented. The play contains every element required to satisfy amusement seekers.

Mr. Montgomery has introduced in the character of Irene O'Dare a girl who, though of humble birth, is truly golden, a veritable fairy princess, a girl who has ambition and employs it in the right way, for, as she amply demonstrates through the play, one may obtain the highest height of success, if they will only use their knowledge whether it be big or little, and some good common sense and not stand still.

The prices are $2.50, $2, $1.50, $1 and 50 cents. The box office opened Friday at 10 a. m.

The Sonoma Vista Improvement Club will have a big house warming and card party for the flag pole fund Saturday night, April 15th.

MRS. J. A. POPPE CELEBRATES 93rd BIRTHDAY

Friends of Mrs. J. A. Poppe, the pioneer mother and retired lady merchant of Sonoma Valley, have once again had the honor of greeting her on her birthday. Last Saturday she had reached the ninety-third milestone of life's journey and it found Mrs. Poppe more sprightly and looking even younger than last year. Surrounded by sons and daughters, by grand children and great grand children, and greeted throughout the afternoon by admiring friends, the guest of honor actively participated in her party and enjoyed every minute of it, even the bounteous spread and the wonderful birthday cakes set before her. The usual spring flowers and beautiful potted plants which are always prized birthday gifts with Sonoma's beloved pioneer mother were everywhere in evidence. All that was lacking to make it a perfect day was the absence of a dear friend who had crossed the Great Divide during the past year and she seemed there in spirit, memory of her loyal presence at former birthdays of Mrs. Poppe recurring to the many friends who meet together each year on this happy date in March.

Among congratulatory cards and greetings was a lovely letter from Otto von Geldern, the civil engineer, of San Francisco, who spent his boyhood in Sonoma and was almost raised with the Poppe family. Mr. von Geldern spoke feelingly of the pleasure it was to congratulate Mrs. Poppe on her ninety-third birthday and said it seemed like yesterday when as a boy he had played with her sons and enjoyed the hospitality of her home. He referred to the good old, carefree days and declared that the past generation had its compensations, and enduring friendships were the greatest of all blessings.

At the table, festive with Spring blossoms. Mrs. Kate Buchan, a daughter of Mrs. Poppe and hostess of the afternoon, presided. She was becomingly gowned in an imported radium silk, in brown and gold tones. Attorney R. A. Poppe, a son, Charles J. Poppe, the Glen Ellen merchant; another son, and Mrs. Emma Small, eldest daughter, were the other children present. Many of the grandchildren were also there and the new little great grandson, Alfred Bulotti, was among those present.

After speeches and toasts to Mrs. Poppe and wishes that she would round out her centennial anniversary, there was vocal and instrumental music, including two numbers by Mrs. Robert Poppe, who played by special request two favorites of the guest of honor, Monastery Bells and Listen to the Mocking Bird.

Thus passed another anniversary of an old time, respected Sonoma Valley resident and pioneer of California, who, at ninety-three years, testifies to the salubrity of our climate and the spirit of our indomitable West. In this land of plenty and opportunity she has prospered and grown gracefully old in years, though still young in heart. May she live to enjoy many more birthdays, endowed with rare health and blessed with the presence of her devoted children.

DANCING ACADEMY AND STUDIO TO OPEN SOON

Madame Maerilla has rented the lower floor of the Masonic building for a studio and dancing academy. With her son, Eugene Free, she will conduct classes in dancing and will organize a choral society. The talented teacher will also teach band instruments and give individual vocal instruction. The formal opening dance at the academy will be announced later.

COUNTY OFFICIALS' HATS IN RING

his office like it was his own business and is noted for his efficiency and strict business methods, will probably have no opposition. Mr. Felt has served the people faithfully and well for 12 years and with all his work always has time to be pleasant and obliging to the humblest callers at his office. There's a reason for Mr. Felt's popularity and the desire of voters to continue him in office.

District Attorney George Hoyle, who has been put to an acid test on many vital and important matters since taking office and has won out in every instance will seek re-election Mr. Hoyle has had no easy row to hoe in public life, having several times been subjected to unwarranted attacks and forced to rout his enemies. That he did so successfully and won out with flying colors speaks for itself.

Virgil Butts, county tax collector, who had years of training under Cap Collins, and has proven a worthy successor with many up-to-date ideas and modern business methods, has his hat in the ring for the August event and has assurance from supporters everywhere that they are for him.

County Treasurer Ramage, County Recorder Snyder and E. A. Peugh, who lately succeeded R. Press Smith as county surveyor are all in the field again.

At the last county election, Sonoma Valley had two candidates, Joe Ryan for sheriff, and J. F. Prestwood for county superintendent of schools. So far none of the politically ambitious down this way have announced themselves, though rumors now and then crop up as to the intentions of local celebrities to enter the arena.

SENATOR JOHNSON DISCUSSES PACT

Tells Why He Voted Against Four Power Treaty

San Francisco—(Special)—The following letter explaining his position upon the Pacific Four Power treaty has been sent by United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson to Hon. W. W. Morrow, Judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, who presided over a mass meeting in favor of ratification in this city:

I am always very glad to have the views of any considerable number of my constituents, and, indeed, of any individual Californian. I recognize the right of every man to his opinion and the public expression of that opinion. In a democracy like ours it is not only appropriate but helpful and healthy that individual and mass opinions be transmitted to those who briefly hold official power.

Conscience Guide.

But I recognize, too, that one who occupies a position as United States Senator must, in the questions which come to him, reach his decisions and cast his votes as his judgment and his conscience dictate.

He would, indeed, be a poor and contemptible representative, who yielded his conscience and his judgment to every varying popular gust, or to every demand which might be made upon him by groups or individuals.

I do not question the sincerity of your opinion, and that of those who met with you last night, and I welcome your public expression of it. Equally, of course, I take it, you do not question the sincerity of my opinion, and if I were cowardly enough not to give expression to it because any one or any number of my constituents, however many or powerful, demanded otherwise, I would forfeit your respect, and what is worse and what I value more, I would forfeit my own self-respect.

You and I together but two short years ago, faced what seemed to be a rising and irresistible public clamor for a League of Nations. Without thought of the effect, politically or otherwise, we fought then what we believed to be a danger and a peril to the republic.

League History.

The exact arguments that were then made, the methods to deter and to silence us are those now employed. We were told then that there was a new state of mind in the world; that disputes between nations would be solved through friendly conferences rather than by arms; and that the medium of their solution was the League of Nations.

We were told then by some of the very gentlemen who participated in your meeting, and by others who are now speaking in California, that if we did not join the League of Nations our beloved country was headed straight for a war. You and I fought on, though, because we believed we were right and because we wanted to preserve our cherished heritage just as we had received it, for those who follow us. You and I desired to keep our nation, not aloof from others, but free from their controversies, their spoliation, their imperialism, and their oppressions.

We fought the good fight then, and we won it. Time demonstrated every lugubrious prophecy and every dire prediction made by those opposing us to be utterly without foundation.

Today I believe substantially the same situation confronts us. We are by degrees being taken into what two years ago we so fortunately escaped This step in the Pacific, in my opinion, is but the prelude to others. If we are to enter the league, I prefer to take my beating standing, and with head up, enter the front door, rather than creep in the back.

Seeks Peace.

I recognize fully the peculiar psychology with which we have to deal today and I sympathize wholly with the yearning of all good people forever to put an end to the horrors of war. I do not oppose and I never have opposed consultation among nations. I have always sincerely advocated it and do so now. I am unable to understand why, if we seek consultation, we do not plainly say so, and when pretending only a desire for consultation, we undertake to maintain British and Japanese possessions.

Instead of conference and consultation alone the treaty before us provides for maintaining territory and meeting aggression. I do not want to put any obligation, direct or indirect, express or implied, upon our country, upon our sons or our grandsons, to meet aggression against British or Japanese possessions, and I will not do so.

With the past so indelibly stamped in my memory, with my knowledge of the world situation, a knowledge perhaps better than that of my constituents, I cannot, by my vote, take my country into a partnership with other nations which will inevitably lead us into unknown perils and do just that against which you and I so vigorously fought.

The dangers, aye, the consequences of just such agreements as the one under consideration, are written in all the bloody pages of history.

U. S. Unfettered.

I oppose this treaty which would carry us into a pact no stronger than which was in part responsible for the great world war, because I would save this nation, and all the nations of the earth, from future murderous horrors and devastating wars. In the name of the ten millions slain in the great world war, invoked by you, in the name of the hallowed graves of the Americans who unselfishly gave their lives, I would preserve my country to play its great part in its appointed destiny, free and unfettered, the leader of the nations of the earth, the hope of civilization. It was to this, and by this, to prevent a recurrence of the awful tragedy from which we have just emerged, I gave my substance and my effort in the difficult contest we made together.

I believe, and I am sure, on reflection, you will agree, that our country can aid the world better with our ideals untouched, our independence of action undiminished, under the policy by which we have reached our present high eminence and great power, than as a partner of Britain and Japan.

I may have been mistaken in my position two years ago; I may be mistaken now; but then I fought, and now I am fighting, as an American for my America, and God helping me, I will continue that fight until I die.

ARRESTED FOR VIOLATION OF LIQUOR ORDINANCE

In Judge Plank's court Tuesday complaints were sworn to and warrants issued for the arrest of the following Petaluma citizens:

Bert Ayers of the Arcade.

Tony Silva of the Mercantile Grill.

Tom Wilson of the Washington street hotel.

A. Calletti, corner Main and Washington streets.

Each of the defendants is charged with a violation of City Ordinance No. 198, in that they did knowingly and wilfully sell intoxicating liquor in the City of Petaluma, a specific date being given in each instance.

The arrests are the result of evidence secured by two detectives who have been operating in and near Petaluma for over two months. Each case is said to be based on an absolute sale by the defendants to the detectives of flasks of intoxicating liquors of various kinds. It is also understood that each of the defendants sold liquor to the detectives on at least two occasions and that some of the defendants made such sales on as many as four different dates.

The arrests are the first of a series to be made as a result of the work of the detectives who are said to have secured evidence upon which a large number of persons will be prosecuted under the city ordinance, and under the Volstead Act in the Federal courts.

The cases are entirely different from those recently tried in which the charge was keeping intoxicating liquor in a public place. All the complaints in the new cases allege the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors in the City of Petaluma.

The liquors purchased by the detectives has been examined by government chemists. All of it comes under the head of intoxicating liquors some of the liquor running very high in alcoholic content.

It is understood that the detectives did not confine their labors to the City of Petaluma but that they secured evidence similar to that obtained here at various resorts outside the city. It is also reported that their activities extended to physicians and druggists, but the Argus was unable to secure definite information as to the activities of the detectives in this direction.—Petaluma Argus.

CONVICT IS CAPTURED

The escaped convict, Willis Knowles, for whom Deputy Sheriff Ryan and Guard Bill Kehoe of San Quentin combed the Sonoma-Napa marshes, some weeks ago, has been captured in Los Angeles. Knowles and two pals escaped from the penitentiary during religious services.

An incipient blaze, said to be due to an oil stove igniting the woodwork in the kitchen of the Getchell Sanitarium at Boyes, brought the chemical engine from the fire house Friday of last week, but Chief Cause soon had the fire under control.

CAN RAISE STANDARD OF GRADE COWS

The State of California as a whole could raise their level of production of grade cows if they followed a plan as outlined by B. H. Crocheron, professor of Agricultural Extension at the University of California. In a recent lecture Professor Crocheron said:

"A recent survey made in Humboldt County showed that there are 28,000 cows in that section of the state The 14,000 best cows representing the higher producing herds produce an average of 339 pounds of butterfat per year or a total of 4,755,800 pounds a year, which is valued at $3,138,828.00. The 1400 poorer cows produce only an average of 263 pounds of butterfat totalling 3,693,200 pounds. The difference is an annual variation of $701,-316.00.

"In order to improve poorer herds of the county there is required only the use of certain methods of dairying that are already known. All the cows should be tested for butterfat and the poorer ones should be culled out. Every herd should be headed by a pure bred sire and the cows should be fed a balanced ration. In Humboldt County a pure bred sire campaign was carried on and 104 pure bred bulls were brought in and placed on dairy farms eliminating the scrub sires which were previously used on these farms. The average price of the bulls did not go above $150.

"The same plan is applicable to the state of California as a whole. There were 778,000 cows in California in 1920. These gave an average of 536 gallons per cow per year or about 128 pounds of butterfat per cow per year. The total annual production of these cows was valued at $55,000,000. If the level of the state's production were brought up to that of the poorer half of the cows in Humboldt County it would mean $24,200,000 per year to California, or expressing it in another way, it would add $400,000,000 to the productive capital of the state."

MAY ASK HIGH COURT TO PASS ON ROAD CASE

The supervisors will ask for a rehearing in the State Supreme Court on the appellate court's decision in the Cathal O'Farrell highway case against the supervisors, it was reported this week.

The appellate court in San Francisco this week overturned a decision of the local superior courts which had upheld the supervisors in their position that they could go ahead and pave only a part of the Sebastopal-Freestone road so long as the fund provided for under the 1919 bond issue was not sufficient to pave the entire road.

The higher court held, as reported recently, that in such a case as this, the matter of additional funds with which to complete the paving as first planned should be put up to the people, and this failing, the supervisors should distribute the fund over the entire unit.

Local attorneys predict that the State Supreme Court will find, just as the superior court found, that county supervisors may pave only a portion of a road, in the event the money available for the work is insufficient for the entire job.

It is said that paving work in many counties of California will be affected by the final outcome of the present case, and that lawsuits aggregating millions of dollars may be brought in various counties should the ruling of Justice George Sturtevant of the district court of appeals stand. —Santa Rosa Press Democrat.

WHAT THE DRYS THINK ABOUT THEODORE BELL

"Theodore A. Bell, life long Democrat, chief counsel for the liquor interests, has made the startling announcement that the action of certain Democratic United States senators on the four-nation pact has driven him into the Republican fold. Simultaneously there appeared in the San Francisco press a statement that Bell had filed with Samuel F. Rutter, prohibition director, a 24 page brief citing 252 lay and clerical authorities in defense of the religious rites of the Holy Rosikrucians. It appears that no member of this holy order may meditate without drinking at least four ounces of wine and that he may not retain his membership without drinking a minimum of 40 gallons a year. The ritual makes the toast, "Everlasting Remembrance," a distinctive and conspicuous feature. Wine glasses are elevated in the air as it is pronounced by the Pontifex. The records of the Internal Revenue Department, as reported by the San Francisco press, show that 5000 gallons have been drawn by the holy order for religious rites in the past month, which would indicate a hearty response to the toast.

On the day preceding the filing of the brief on behalf of this holy order, and the announcement of his sudden conversion to the Republican faith, Bell was quoted in an interview in the San Francisco Call as saying that there would be in the field a Republican candidate for governor on a wine and beer plank, and, of opposition to the Wright Anti-Bootlegging Act.

Is this sudden interest in a Republican candidate for governor the result of Democratic opposition to the four-nation pact, or of Rutter's opposition to the cause of the Holy Rosikrucians? Is his conversion due to outraged feelings caused by the representatives of his party in the senate, or by the action of Rutter in denying to the holy order four ounces of wine for each meditation?

It is of course improbable that so recent a convert would think of becoming a candidate himself. Is he then qualifying as a Republican supporter of some candidate for governor who would prevent anti-bootlegging laws from interfering with the practices of the Holy Rosikrucians?" The Anti-Sallon League wants to know.

GOOD MANAGEMENT NECESSARY IN POULTRY RAISING

Effective business management is necessary in the operation of a commercial poultry farm according to figures compiled by J. E. Dougherty, associate professor of poultry husbandry, and S. Gossman, assistant in poultry husbandry at the University of California. A poultry keeper's efficiency as a business manager will determine the size of his profits.

In a survey made by Professor Dougherty, Farm A averaged 176 eggs per hen and gave a net profit on each hen of $4.43 for the year 1919. Farm B, with an average yield of 143 eggs per hen netted a profit of $1.30. Farm C, with an average production of 140 eggs and made a profit of $2.08. Farm D received 129 eggs per hen and made a profit of $2.12. These farms were all in the same county and had equally favorable locations. Each was a 1000 hen farm and all costs incuding interest on investments, taxes, fire insurance, hired labor, etc., were included in the expense when figuring net profit.

Such instances are typical according to Professor Dougherty. The human element or the ability of the poultry keeper is the most vital factor governing success or failure. Not only the hen herself, but the man behind the hen must be equal to the job.

S. P. TO RESTORE OLD RATES TO RESORTS

On April 28, the Southern Pacific will restore the fares to local summer resorts that were in effect during the summer of 1920 before the 20 per cent increase was added.

Tickets will be sold in California, Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico to mountain, valley and seashore resorts on the Pacific Coast.

GLEN ELLEN NEWS

Mrs. Fred Butler, wife of the State Home superintendent, has recovered from a severe attack of the flu.

Miss Adele Romani of San Francisco has been visiting her friend, Josephyne Pancrazi, of Glen Ellen.

The new baby of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Weise is to be called Donald Everett. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mrs. Rhea Hannon and little son, Paul, have been visiting Miss Bernice Monahan in San Rafael and friends in San Francisco.

Mrs. William Ping, one of Glen Ellen's pioneer residents, suffered a fall in the yard of her home and when found was unconscious and had broken her arm. She evidently had a fainting spell.

Mrs. M. Thompson for several years the capable attendant in charge of the Poppe Cottage at the State Home, died Monday night following pneumonia. Her death caused general sorrow at the institution.

Mrs. Eliza Shepard and little niece have moved to Wake Robin Lodge. Mrs. Shepard has been indisposed for some time past and is changing her living place for the rest and to be free of responsibilities of the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Buck have greatly improved the Mervyn grounds and are getting the pioneer resort in fine shape for the summer season. It is reported that they have engaged the Harvard Orchestra for the months of June, July and August.

A party of Glen Ellen folks went to the Healdsburg Sunday School Convention last week. The teachers, Misses McAuliffe and Clark, took one party and Mr. and Mrs. Edrington another group of young people, and a most enjoyable session is reported

MRS. FRANK COOKE IS CANDIDATE FOR TRUSTEE

Mrs. Frank Cooke of Healdsburg, wife of the well known newspaper man who has often assisted on the Index-Tribune staff, is a candidate for city trustee of Healdsburg. Mrs. Cooke is a bright woman, deeply interested in the civic advancement of her community. She is a former school teacher and is prominently identified with church and club work in her home town.

Mrs. James Skee is another woman candidate. Four men are in the field also, so the Healdsburg municipal election promises to be a lively one.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSN. RE-ELECTS PRESIDENT

Mrs. Henry Norrbom of El Verano, has been re-elected president of the El Verano Parent-Teachers Association. The association has flourished under her guidance and the members insisted on her accepting the office again. Other officers elected at the regular election recently were Mrs. Merz, vice president; Mrs. Sutherland secretary, and Mrs. Steinkamp, treasurer.

Mrs. James Tate has been visiting in San Francisco.

MACHINE SUPPLANTS FORTY HANDS

The big sand blast egg cleaning machine recently installed by the Poultry Producers of Central California, Inc., at their main plant in Petaluma was placed in commission on Monday morning of last week and on Saturday evening 40 hands, principally women and girls, were discharged, to the great regret of the management and the citizens. Practically all are now without work and must seek other employment. Several men were also let out.—Petaluma Argus.

NEW HOTELMEN IN SONOMA

Bianchi Brothers, lessees of the new Plaza Hotel, were down from Santa Rosa Wednesday on business connected with their opening. They were accompanied by one of the owners of the Campi restaurant and met many friends while here. The Bianchis are going to be fine boosters for Sonoma and already predict much prosperity and growth for the community, having great faith in the future of the entire valley. They will open the new hotel about April 15th

D. Hatton, who has been employed in San Francisco on construction work has accepted a position on the new high school building here.

WHAT TO DO IN FLOWER GARDEN IN THE SPRING

In the semi-tropical parts of California, sweet peas, asters, celosia, fornia, sweet peas, asters, celosia, centaurea, dianthus, marigolds, balsam, zinnias, shasta daisies, verbenas and calliopsis are scheduled to be sown and transplanted in April. The coast region planters still must furnish protection against the cold winds and in this section the above list may be followed if all plant beds are protected from winds until they are well established.

In the interior do not set out young plants unless frosts are over. Sweet peas, poppies, coreopsis, candy-tuft, and alyssum may be sown or transplanted outdoors in most sections of the interior.

The seasonal bulbs are tube-roses gladiolus, dahlias, cannas and callas. These should be planted as early as possible, especially in sections where the summer is early. Along the coast bulb planting is not necessarily a rushing matter.—Helen Temple in Orchard and Farm.

LIVELY SCHOOL ELECTION

The school election yesterday was the liveliest in years, particularly in the Dunbar Union district and the Sonoma Valley Union High School districts. In Dunbar, a board of five trustees were being voted for from among the following sets of candidates: Consolidation candidates, Earl Mead, Milton Johnson, Louis Bartell, Leopold Justi, and Daniel Friedger. Opposing consolidation: Ben Behler, Mrs. Whipple, Rich, Craib and Moore.

A new $35,000 bond issue for a new union school house at Dunbar was also voted upon.

In the high school election Messrs. Johnson and Bish, incumbents, were candidates for re-election and Leopold Justi sought a place on the board.

The result of the elections was not available as the Index-Tribune went to press.
